Are visual employment contracts for you?

Why would you want to use a visual employment contract?

A few reasons are, improving:

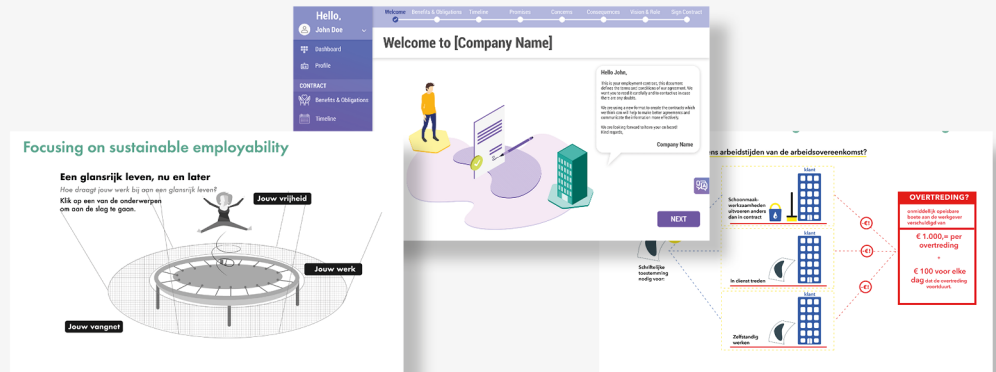

- Employee engagement
- Image building
- Employer branding & culture
- Clarity and understandability of your contracts, to prevent conflicts and improving the legal empowerment of yourself and your employees
- Efficiency in administrative processes
- Good employership
- Inclusion and diversity

On Thursday 19 March Visual Contracts organises a meetup to discover the first steps in implementing visual employment contracts for and together with your company. Join this event and explore if a visual employment contract is something for you.

There is a limited amount of spots available. We will make a selection of participants based on interest of implementing a visual employment contract and match with our vision. New dates for similar meetups will be shared if you cannot participate.
